

Office Communicator/Lync

Click on the Windows button on the bottom left corner

Search for Lync

Once you open Lync the first time it will automatically reload when you boot your computer.

If it asks for a user name and password make sure you type in your entire email address for the user name.